

Dermatopathology Staff

Toru Shoji, MD, PhD – Executive Medical Director of Dermatopathology

Office location: Shelton, CT | Telephone: 203-926-7276

Dr Shoji is board certified in anatomic and clinical pathology and dermatopathology. He received his medical degree and doctorate from Toho University School of Medicine, Tokyo, Japan, and completed his residency training at Albert Einstein College of Medicine and Brown University. He completed a postdoctoral fellowship in the Department of Dermatology at Boston University under Dr Barbara Gilchrest, a fellowship in dermatopathology including 6 months of dermatology at Boston Medical Center under Dr Jag Bhawan, and a fellowship in surgical pathology at Montefiore Medical Center, Albert Einstein College of Medicine under Dr J.J. Steinberg. He is a fellow of the College of American Pathologists, the American Society of Clinical Pathologists, the American Society of Dermatopathology, and an associate member of the American Academy of Dermatology. He has authored many articles on endocrine science, melanocytic lesions, and other adnexal neoplasms in basic science and clinical journals. Dr Shoji was an assistant professor of dermatology and pathology at Mount Sinai School of Medicine, New York, NY. He joined DIANON in 2000 and served as a medical director in dermatopathology and immunopathology before joining Laboratory of Dermatopathology, where he served as a director of immunopathology. In June 2009, he rejoined DIANON as a medical director of dermatopathology.

Honggang Shen, MD, PhD – Laboratory Director, DIANON Systems-West

Office location: Los Angeles, CA | Telephone 310-996-0036, x4815

Dr Shen is board certified in anatomic and clinical pathology and dermatopathology. He received his medical degree from Shanghai Medical University, Shanghai, China, and holds a doctorate in biochemistry and molecular biology from the Chicago Medical School in North Chicago, Ill. Dr Shen completed his pathology residency training at the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) School of Medicine where he was chief resident physician, a surgical pathology fellow, and a dermatopathology fellow. He was the winner of 2 NIH National Service Awards in tumor pathology and the College of American Pathologists Foundation's Informatics Awards for 3 consecutive years. Previously, Dr Shen practiced as a general pathologist in the Southern California Permanente Medical Group, Anaheim, Calif.

Jian-Ping (John) Cai, MD

Office location: Tampa, FL | Telephone: 813-289-5227, x3310

Dr Cai is board certified in anatomic and clinical pathology and dermatopathology. He earned his medical degree from Zhejiang University School of Medicine, Hangzhou, People's Republic of China. Dr Cai completed his dermatology residency training at the Second Affiliated Hospital of Zhejiang Medical University and his anatomic and clinical pathology residency training at the University of Tennessee Health Science Center in Memphis, where he also completed a dermatopathology fellowship. Dr Cai has published several papers in the field of dermatopathology.

Alain Dumas, MD

Office location: Shelton, CT | Telephone: 203-926-7216

Dr Dumas is board certified in anatomic and clinical pathology and in dermatopathology. He received his medical degree from l'Université d'Aix-Marseille, France. He completed a residency in pathology and a fellowship in dermatopathology with Dr Robert Phelps at the Mount Sinai Hospital in New York. Before joining DIANON Systems, Dr Dumas was a staff pathologist with American Medical Laboratories in Virginia.

Hong Jiang, MD, PhD

Office location: Shelton, CT | Telephone: 203-926-7282

Dr Jiang is board certified in anatomic and clinical pathology and dermatopathology. He earned his medical degree at Xi'an Medical University, Xi'an, People's Republic of China, and his PhD in biochemistry at Rush Medical College, Chicago, Illinois. Dr Jiang holds medical licensure in the states of Tennessee and Missouri. He is a member of the College of American Pathologists, the American Society of Clinical Pathology, and the Tennessee Medical Association.

Ning Li, MD

Office location: Shelton, CT | Telephone: 203-926-7484

Dr Li is board certified in anatomic pathology and dermatopathology. She received her medical degree from the Beijing Medical University, Beijing, People's Republic of China. She completed a dermatology residency at the First Hospital of Beijing Medical University and a pathology residency at the Yale New Haven Hospital, Yale University, New Haven, Conn. Dr Li was a dermatopathology fellow at the University of Washington Medical Center in Seattle. She is a Junior Member of the American College of Pathology and the United States and Canadian Academy of Pathology. Dr Li has authored numerous articles on dermatopathology.

Frank F. Luo, MD

Office location: Los Angeles, CA | Telephone 310-996-0036, x4816

Dr Luo is a board certified in anatomic and clinical pathology and dermatopathology. He received his medical degree from Shanghai Military Medical University, Shanghai, China. Dr Luo completed residency training in anatomic and clinical pathology at the University of Southern California and dermatopathology fellowship training at the University of California School of Medicine in Los Angeles. Previously, Dr Luo was an assistant professor and dermatopathologist in the Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine at UCLA, where he worked with Dr Scott Binder, a nationally renowned dermatopathologist.

Leena Thomas Lourduraj, MD

Office location: Research Triangle Park, NC | Telephone: 919-361-7700

Dr Lourduraj is board certified in anatomic and clinical pathology and dermatopathology. She received her medical degree from St John's Medical College in Bangalore, India. Dr Lourduraj completed residency training and a dermatopathology fellowship at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center. She is a member of the United States and Canadian Academy of Pathology, the College of American Pathologists, and the Pennsylvania Pathology Society.

Timothy Wayne McCardle, MD

Office location: Tampa, FL | Telephone: 813-225-3841

Dr McCardle is board certified in anatomic pathology and dermatopathology. He earned his medical degree at the University of Mississippi School of Medicine. He completed a pathology residency at Washington University/Barnes Jewish Hospital, where he also completed a surgical pathology fellowship. He then completed a dermatopathology fellowship at the University of South Florida. Dr McCardle's independent research on frontal polymerizations led him to design and develop a technique, now known as ascending frontal polymerizations, that led to his developing and patenting a new class of plastics called functionally gradient polymers. Dr McCardle is a member of the American College of Pathologists, the United States and Canadian Academy of Pathology, the American Medical Association, the American Society of Dermatopathology, and the International Society of Dermatopathology

Puja K. Puri, MD

Office location: Research Triangle Park, NC | Telephone: 919-361-7700, x3454

Dr Puri is board certified in anatomic pathology and dermatopathology. She received her medical degree from the Eastern Virginia Medical School in Norfolk and a graduate certificate in epidemiology from the George Washington University School of Health Sciences. She completed an anatomic pathology residency at George Washington University and a dermatopathology fellowship at the Geisinger Medical Center in Danville, Penn. Before joining DIANON, Dr Puri was an assistant professor of pathology and dermatology at Duke University Medical Center. She currently serves on the editorial board for Cutis and is a peer reviewer for the Journal of the American Academy of Pathology. She has extensive experience as a national speaker/presenter. Dr Puri is a member of the United States Cutaneous Lymphoma Consortium, the International Society for Dermatopathology, the American Society of Dermatopathology Young Physicians' Committee, the College of American Pathologists, the American Society for Clinical Pathology, and the United States and Canadian Academy of Pathology.

Katya M. Sánchez, MD

Office location: Research Triangle Park, NC | Telephone: 800-533-0567, x3685

Dr Sánchez is board certified in anatomic pathology and in dermatopathology. She received her medical degree at the National University School of Medicine in Asunción, Paraguay. Dr Sánchez completed a residency in anatomic and clinical pathology that included a surgical pathology fifth year at Indiana University in Indianapolis. She then completed a fellowship in dermatopathology at Duke University, Durham, NC. She has authored and coauthored a number of articles and has participated in national and international meetings and poster presentations.

Lyndon D. Su, MD

Office location: Los Angeles, CA | Telephone 310-996-0036, x4808

Dr Su is a diplomate of the National Board of Medical Examiners, a diplomate of the American Board of Pathology in anatomic and clinical pathology, and a diplomate of the American Board of Pathology in dermatopathology. He earned his medical degree from the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) School of Medicine. He received postdoctoral training at the UCLA School of Medicine and the University of Michigan Medical Center, and he completed a dermatopathology fellowship in the Department of Anatomic Pathology and Dermatopathology at Stanford University Hospital. Dr Su is a member of the American Society of Clinical Pathology, the American Academy of Dermatology, the Michigan Dermatological Society, the A. James French Society of Pathologists, and the American Society of Dermatopathology. He has authored numerous articles that have been published in peer-reviewed journals.

Yong Tao, MD, PhD

Office location: Los Angeles, CA | Telephone 310-996-0036, x4809

Dr Tao is board certified in anatomic and clinical pathology and dermatopathology. He earned his medical degree at Shanghai Medical University, Shanghai, China. He earned a PhD in neuroscience and cell biology at Rutgers University Graduate School, New Brunswick, NY, and Robert Wood Johnson Medical School Graduate School of Biomedical Science, Piscataway, NJ. Dr Tao was a fellow in the Department of Dermatopathology at Boston University Medical Center from 2002 to 2004.

Consulting Pathologists

In addition to staff pathologists, DIANON Systems utilizes consulting physicians to review complex cases.

Scott Binder, MD – Chief of Dermatopathology and Director of Outreach Services, Geffen-UCLA Medical Center

Dr Binder is a nationally known expert in skin diseases with a specialty in pigmented lesions and lymphoid lesions of the skin. He studied with Dr James Graham of the Scripps Clinic and Dr Bernard Ackerman at New York University, both of whom are internationally recognized leaders in dermatopathology. Dr Binder is a widely known guest lecturer and award-winning teacher. His consultations are recognized for their clinical insights and diagnostic acumen.

Martin C. Mihm, Jr, MD

Dr Mihm is an international consultant for pigmented lesions, lymphoma, and cutaneous inflammatory diseases. He is co-director of the Pigmented Lesion Clinic at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. He is also co-chairman of the Melanoma Pathology Program of the World Health Organization and co-director of the new Rare Tumor Institute founded this year by the World Health Organization. Dr. Mihm has co-authored numerous articles and several books concerning skin pathology.

Christopher D. Fletcher, MD

Dr Fletcher is a professor in the Department of Pathology at Harvard Medical School. He serves as chief of Onco-Pathology, Pathology, at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and director of Surgical Pathology at Brigham And Women's Hospital.